WPMS No. 2056 of 2001

Hon'ble P.C. Verma, J.

Heard learned counsel for the petitioner and perused the judgment passed by the learned Labour Court. Labour Court after holding that the petitioner was workman and he was retrenched inaccordance with law. Therefore, he directed to comply the provisions of section six q, in case the petitioner is going to engage the workman. I do not find any infirmity in the case award made by the labour court.

Therefore, the writ petition is dismissed no order as to cost.
